

Her breath is more sweet

The second part

William Byrd (c.1540-1623)

Bassus (part 5 of 5)

Songs of sundrie natures (Thomas East press, London, 1589)

Her breath is more sweet, is more sweet than per - fect Am - ber, Am - ber is,
5 her years are in prime and no-thing doth she want that might draw An-gels from Heav'n
10 to fur-ther bliss, to fur-ther bliss, that might draw An-gels from Heav'n to fur - ther bliss, to fur-ther
15 bliss, to fur-ther bliss, to fur-ther bliss; Of all things per-fect, per - fect_ this do I most com-
20 plain, com-plain: her heart is a rock made all of A - da-mant, which gifts all de-light, 25 which gifts all de-light, which gifts all de - light, this last doth on - ly_ pain, doth on - ly_ 30 pain, doth on-ly pain, this last doth on-ly_ pain, doth on - ly_ pain, this last doth on - ly pain.